CONSOLIDATED CASES

PLAINTIFFS' LEGISLATIVE FACT EXHIBIT LIST

Intervenor-Defendant.
DANIEL AZZOPARDI, et al., Plaintiffs, v. ELLEN F. ROSENBLUM, et al., Defendants.

On June 2, 2023, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to separately identify “legislative fact exhibits.” Dkt. 236. Plaintiffs hereby provide that legislative fact exhibit list.

Previously, on May 31, 2023, the Court requested Plaintiffs to “1) Please identify by exhibit number all the marked exhibits that Plaintiff[s] seek[] to introduce as ‘legislative facts’; and 2) for each such ‘legislative fact,’ identify that specific aspect of the constitutional analysis demanded by Bruen to which each such legislative fact applies” To answer that May 31 request, on June 1, 2023, Plaintiffs identified those legislative fact exhibits in Dkt. 228. In Plaintiffs’ and Defendants’ Consolidated Proposed Pretrial Order, Plaintiffs outlined the constitutional analysis demanded by Bruen as counts and questions. Dkt. 161 (5/10/2023), pp. 6-26. Thus, the June 1 submission by Plaintiffs identified the legislative facts by count and question, as set forth in the Proposed Pretrial Order.¹ Later on June 1, 2023, the Court issued an Order Re: Clarification of Issues for Trial,

¹ For ease of reference, those counts and questions are reproduced here:

COUNT I (Second Amendment Challenge to M114’s Permitting Regime)

Question 1: Do Measure 114’s new restrictions on individuals’ ability to acquire firearms, set forth in Measure 114 §4, §5, §6(3)(c), §6(13)(b), §6(14), §7(3)(d)(B), §8(3)(B)(c), restrict conduct that is presumptively protected by the Second Amendment?

Question 2: Have Defendants proven that Measure 114’s new restrictions on individuals’ ability to acquire firearms, set forth in Measure 114 §4, §5, §6(3)(c), §6(13)(b), §6(14), §7(3)(d)(B), §8(3)(B)(c), are consistent with a longstanding historical tradition of firearm regulation in this country?

Question 3: Are Defendants currently able to implement Measure 114’s restrictions on individuals’ ability to acquire firearms, set forth in Measure 114 §4, §5, §6(3)(c), §6(13)(b), §6(14), §7(3)(d)(B), §8(3)(B)(c), in a manner that allows individuals to obtain the permits that are required to lawfully acquire firearms in Oregon?

COUNT II (Due Process Clause Challenge to M114’s Permitting Regime)

setting forth the Court’s “interpretation of the legal questions it must answer to determine whether Ballot Measure 114 (‘BM 114’) violates the Second Amendment.” Dkt. 235, p. 1. The Court’s Order contains the same counts, but divides and describes the questions differently than Plaintiffs’ description in the Proposed Pretrial Order. For clarity, Plaintiffs include references both to the Court’s Clarification of Issue for Trial (Dkt. 235) and to Plaintiffs’ description of their claims (Dkt. 161).

Plaintiffs have not identified in this list those exhibits that the parties have stipulated² will be trial exhibits because this Court ordered that “where the parties have stipulated to the admission of particular exhibits that Plaintiffs assert are legislative facts, this Court will receive those exhibits as part of the evidentiary record.” Dkt. 236, p. 5. Rather, this list includes those legislative fact exhibits identified by Plaintiffs that Defendants object to admitting into the evidentiary record as trial exhibits.

Plaintiffs respectfully submit that this is not an exhaustive list of the documents that this Court or a reviewing appellate court may rely upon in deciding issues in this case. See Dkt. 223.

COUNT III (Second Amendment Challenge to M114’s Magazine Prohibitions)

Question 1: Are the ammunition feeding devices that Measure 114 prohibits covered by the plain text of the Second Amendment?

Question 2: Are the ammunition feeding devices that Measure 114 prohibits “in common use”?

Question 3: Have Defendants proven that there is a longstanding historical tradition of banning ammunition feeding devices above a certain capacity for semi-automatic firearms?

Question 4: Have Defendants proven that ammunition feeding devices capable of accepting more than 10 rounds constitute a dramatic technological change or novel societal phenomenon that justifies a “more nuanced approach”?

COUNT IV (Fifth Amendment Takings Clause Challenge to M114’s Magazine Prohibitions)

Question 1: Does Measure 114 §11 effect a physical taking?

Question 2: Does Measure 114 §11 effect a regulatory taking?

COUNT V (Due Process Clause Challenge to M114’s Magazine Prohibitions)

Question: Do the confiscatory, retroactive aspects of Measure 114 §11 violate due process?

COUNT VI (Void-for-Vagueness Challenge to M114’s Magazine Prohibitions)

Question: Is Measure 114 §11 void for vagueness?

² Plaintiffs note that all parties have stipulated to the authenticity of the documents listed here.

Finally, for additional clarity, Plaintiffs submit that the legislative facts that may be considered in resolving Plaintiffs' claims may be found in court decisions and other documents beyond those listed below.

Defendants' response:

Defendants take the following position with respect to each of Plaintiffs' designations. Plaintiffs' proposed "legislative facts" are not proper legislative facts. As this Court explained in its June 2, 2023 Order (ECF 236), "legislative facts are not admissible to resolve disputed facts essential to the elements of Plaintiffs' claims unless they comply with the Federal Rules of Evidence." Each document described below is a hearsay article, study, or data set that Plaintiffs offer to resolve an essential element of Plaintiffs' claims. Plaintiffs' proposed "legislative facts" documents are authored by individuals who are not testifying in this case. Accordingly, these documents are inadmissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence. See, e.g., FRE 802 (establishing general rule that hearsay "is not admissible"). Defendants reserve the right to respond to Plaintiffs' "legislative facts" with admissible testimony at trial or with post-trial briefing.
